Well the new family member has arrived.

Noah Finlay Eastick was born at 9:04am on the 23rd of September. He came in at 3790gm, 8lb 5.5oz in the old scale. He was born with hair, we are still waiting on the eye colour, but looks like they may be blue. His skin seems darker than Liam and he does have a strong Krause look about him.

Mum is doing well, and Liam is enjoying the new brother, but he still needs to work on the concept of gentle, I also need to relax on the wrestling now to. Below is some pictures from his first day, I hope to have a short video soon as well.
